OUR FUTURE LEGISLATURE. In discussing last year the Bill for the government of the Australian colonies, we expressed substantially the opinion since adopted by the Times—that we did not see how much more could be conceded without conceding all that remained of the Imperial connexion. We did so, however, with one qualification. So long as our local Legislature should be forbidden to interfere with the administration of our public lands, and with the revenues thence arising, we could not admit that full justice had been done to the colony. That opinion remains unchanged; and, so far as yet appears, the facts which elicited the expression of it remain unchanged also. We have seen nothing in the Parliamentary debates of the present session from which we could er any disposition on the part of HER MAJESTY's Government to concede to us the exercise of this undoubted right; nor, indeed, to the best of our recollection. have we seen anything to warrant the hope that our friends in the House intended to make this point one of the grounds of their opposition to the Minis-science has remained in this colony is terial measure. Something has been likely to terminate. An opportunity is said, to be sure, of the Government being now afforded of recording scientific ininclined to leave the minimum price of land to be settled by the General Astest of fair and honest enticism. We are cembly; but as regards the general question of territorial administration, we question of territorial administration, we to see an exposition of Australian in-find it enacted in the 12th clause of the dustry, at the same time it is most desiranew Bill that no local law ble that there should be some focus from shall "interfere in any manner whence the publication of scientific inwith the sale or other appropriation of the lands belonging to the Crown within with the sale of other appropriation of vestigations should radiate, and where the lands belonging to the Crown within any of the colonics, or with the revenue thence arising." Here is the old grievance perpetuated; and whatever else may be conceded, the colonists will never be satisfied until this grievance be entirely done away.

General Register Office,

Supposing the Bill to have passed whom is the second to be composed?

Touching the first, we should certainly reply, not by the present Legislative Council. They were elected for the purpose of exercising the powers vested them by the existing law, and no with any view to their making organic changes in our constitution as settled by that law. On a question of so much im portance as the one under review, the sense of the constituencies ought to be taken. If, therefore, that question shall have to be settled by the Legislative Council as now constituted, the GOVERNOR will, in our opinion, be bound to appeal to the electors by dissolving the present body, and issuing writs for a new general election. By this means the pre-vailing sentiments of the colonists would be so far elicited as to exercise their due influence upon the ultimate decision. And, arrived at under an influence so legitimate and salutary, that decision would be all the more likely to be reasonable in itself, and satisfactory to the com

The second enquiry is surrounded with many difficulties, and is one upon which there will be displayed a great diversity of opinions, and, we fear, no small amount of political exacerbation. Our own view is, that a second chamber is desirable, not so much for the sake of balancing parties, as for the sake of in fusing extra caution and deliberateness into the process of legislation. We re gard it less as a question of political equilibrium, than as a question of business forms. For the same reason that it is held to be a wholesome arrangement that no bill shall be passed into a law until it has been read three times, we hold it to be a wholesome arrangemen that no bill should pass into a law until nate estates. The three readings are a check against rashness and precipitancy; a second chamber would add another check. The three readings give scope for enquiry, for calm thought, for mature consideration, and for free discussion; a second chamber would give a still wider scope. The three readings bespeak confidence on the part of the community in the solemnity, the wisdom, and the rectitude of its laws; a second chamber would bespeak a still larger measure of that confidence. It was, we celieve, under considerations like these that the framers of the constitution of the United States of America, although they had neither king nor peerage, but had adopted the doctrine that "all men are equal," yet deemed it expedient to follow the model of the British Legislature, in so far as it consisted of three branches They had the sagacity to see, that, irrespective of all state pageantry, and of all theories of aristocratic and de-mocratic antagonism, the old mo-del was a good working one; and all theories of aristocratic and de-mocratic antagonism, the old mo-del was a good working one; and therefore, as men who had much work to for their guide. posed entirely of elective members, or entirely of members nominated by the Crown, or partly of one and partly of the other? We are inclined to the last of these arrangements. We believe that the interests of the colony, like the interests of the parent state, require that in the deliberations of its Legislature, the Executive should have an influence—a real, though not a dominant influence.

And we are disposed to the opinion, that this influence would be neither too this influence would be neither too much nor too little, if the Upper Chamber were framed after the model of our present Legislative Council—one-third of its members being nominated by third of its members being nominated by the Crown, and the other two-thirds elected by the people. We think the influence thus given to the Crown would it would be desirable to publish a similar Renot be too much, because the lower house turn for all Her Majesty's coloni I posses in Australia. It is only a very few months since the proposal for its establishment was mentioned; the large meeting (the first for the discussion of scientific subjects) which was held on Monday evenfounders are appreciated. From the Report of that meeting, which we published in the Herald of Wednesday. much curious and instructive information is obtained, and subjects were broached which must conduce to still further inof our readers be on reading the abridge per on the "external structure and un-developed resources of the County of available products which may some day cially than the bare mention of them in daily paper. The available land between abundance of oysters on the coast, and internally the leaves of the gigantic lily for cordage, the lichens, the honey, and the coal seams, open a field for fresh investigation.

The attention of the meeting was called by the Rev. G. E. TURNER, to a grub which is found in vines, which is calculated to excite alarm amongst our wine-growers. At the same time too much care cannot be bestowed in eradicating upon its first appearance an in-sect which is likely to prove so destructive to the plant.

The discussion which arose upon the dyed wools which were produced to the meeting has already had the effect of instituting further inquiries. It is self-evident that our flocks are increasing so rapidly and our exports of wool so largely, that ere long we must find another out-let for wool besides exporting it to Eng-land. It may be that it will be more profitable to export the manufactured article than the raw material; and if our manufactures are to prove remunerative, one of the chief objects of the manufac-turer must be to obtain a cheap material to dye and fix brilliant and fast colours The specimens of wools dyed from colo-nial products which were exhibited, afford some guarantee that some of the dyes which the manufacturer requires he will be able to obtain almost at the threshold his door. The notice of the heno bark of New Zealand has already had a good effect, since we are informed that series of experiments to endeavour to fix wool by this agent with a permanent black. Passing by the notice of alpaca wool, and the magnificent specimens of a thigh bone of the Moa, which was, we understood, presented by Dr. Nicholson to the Society; we feel bound to notice the splendid and interesing collection of fishes which were more deserving of notice, because we have been informed that it was commenced only a few weeks prior to the To CORRESTONDENTS.

Downing-street,
20th January, 1850.
Sir,—A Census of the population of Regland and Wales will be taken in the year 1851 and not be too much, because the lower house would be composed of elective members exclusively; nor too little, because the experience of our present Legislature has shown that the proportion of one-third is in practice more influential than it appears to be in theory, and because, after all, the Head of the Executive would still retain that most ponderous of the population of the colony under your government to be prepared, in the many power members to be in the one set form, as far as may be practicable, without incurring expenditure which cannot be conveniently provided form.

Although I concur in Major Graham's opinion that it would be desirable that a Ceneus is each of the colonies should, if possible, be taken on or about the same day as that on which it it may be fixed to be taken in this country, this suggestion can of course only be atted upon in the event of the Legislature of New South Wales having it in contemplation to direct such a Return to be made, in which case it would be expedient to submit the recommendation of the Registrar-General to their consideration, with the view to the adeption of such measures as they may deem necessary for securing this object.

A Census cannot be taken in precisely the same form in all Her Majesty's Colonies, as the condition of the respective populations, and the means of ascertaining the facts, differ in different parts. It is desirable newtheless to preserve uniformity as far as is practicable; and I have had one form drawn out, of which recommend the general adoption, subject to the requisite modifications, some of which I shall notice very briefly.

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE. INSOLVENT COURT.

Friday.

Before W. H. Kree, Esq., Chief Commissioner of Insolvent Estates

In the setate of William H. Cory, a single meeting. The following claims were proved:

1. Vary A. Perrier, £12 6s. 3d.; W. Coates, £3 0s. 10d.; Mary Beaver, £14 8s. 6d.; J. B. Viles, £34 £2. 8d.; F. Mackellar, £3 4s. 6d.; H. and J. Mitchell, £3 11s. 11d. Insolvent was allowed to retain the bedding and wearing apparel, all else to be sold. After examination of the insolvent the meeting was adjourned to the 4th proximo.

In the estate of George Pattrick, a first meeting. One claim was proved:—John Smith, £ 50, secured to the whole amount.

Smith, £ 50, secured to the Moorrassess and Scarws.—The attention of the public is particularly directed to Measrs. Mort and Brown's sale, this day, at 11 o'clock, as advertised, on the premises of Measrs. Russell, as the whole will be sold without reserve—Communicated.

House Specie.—Mr. Samuel Lyons reminds buyers of his sale, this day, at the Cattle Market, at 11 o'clock, when he will dispose of 114 head of marcs, foals, at days of he first rate entires.—Communicated.

JOURNALISM.—A newspaper, to be avowedly the organ of the Roman Catholic priesthood, will be issued from St. Mary's immediately. It is to be called after a well-known Dublin paper, The Freeman. The attempt of Dr. Lang and the "League" to get up a daily paper having been a miserable failure, we understand the Doctor is now making arrangements for the issue of a small weekly publication, which is to be issued on his own responsibility.

GOVERNMENT PAY.—A correspondent informs us that the Parramatta constabulary are much inconvenienced by the irregularity with which they receive their pay. The amount due to them on the 1st was not paid on the 20th instant. We do not know whose fault this is, but it is a hardship which these men ought not to be called upon to bear. Their pay ought to be regularly issued. Two or three days' delay is the utmost that ought to be allowed.

House Rosenars.—On Thursday last, on the return home of a person named Boyan, employed at the Canterbury Sugar Works, he found that his house had been broken open. He walked out; Boyan found almost the whole of his wearing both the such means, he stated that it was means, he stated that it was means of giving him a reasonable education; and finding that he had such means, he stated that it was means of such means of the su at the Canterbury Sugar Works, he found that his house had been broken open. He walked in,—some strange man, thereupon, walked out; Boyan found almost the whole of his wearing apparel tied up in bundles convenient for removal, and that he had been robbed of about 30s, in money, with his marriage certificate and several other papers of no use to any one but himself. The thief having bolted without his boots, this circumstance may afford a clue to his discovery. In the course of the night, or early yesterday morning, the premises of a shoemaker named Lavis, at Canterbury, was feloniously entered and robbed of a watch and several other articles; and the residence of George Underbolt, at Ashfield, was broke into, and several articles of bedding were stolen therefrom.

promissory notes and bankers' bills (with the exception of what I would term small change, i. e., change for the smallest note in circultion), we should not require any coined small money, if we had not any taxes to pay.

2ndly. All money, and I use the term in contradistinction to curvency, should emanate from the Government, and I hold it to be wise and politic that it should be so, because, being founded, as it would and must be upon the taxes of the colony, it could never be in excess, and there would consequently be so danger whatever in constituting it, by law, a legal tender, neither would it interfere with the peculiar province of joint-stock banks.

3rdly. The currency of the colony, by which I mean the paper circulation regulating or internal commerce, (to supply the deficiency cocasioned by any inadequate issue of pays money on the part of the Government, as that species of money can only reach a limited amount), aided by such small quantities of coined money as may be found necessary-indeed, as the currency at present nearly exists, may safely be left to the joint-stock banks of the colony, with this security for the public safety, that it should be based upon real property, the issue of which banks could easily be regulated by legislative enacement. Gold and silver would then, at least to us, to be lamented too many persons invest them with, and in descending to their proper level the purpose of small change) our every requirement as well in lears or ingots as in the coined money of the realm.

As I am prepared to enter into details, if necessary, I shall content myself, for the present, by saying that as our monetary allies are now occupying the attention of our Legislature, it may perhaps be as well when that body is making an alteration in the law which at present regulates them, that the alteration may be effectual, so that our entire circulation both of money and currency, may be like a well regulated supply of water to a city—expand and contract with the requirements of its inhabitants.

To the Honorable the Members of the Legislation Council.

(Per favour of the Sydney Morning Herald.)

(Gentlinem,—It would be a matter of the utmost importance to the squatting interest of this colony, if some member of your honorable house would deaire His Excellency the Gevernor to cause to be laid on the table of your honorable house a return of all the cavests which have been lodged with the Commissioners to settle the boundaries of disputed runs; also the amount of money paid by the plaintiff and defendant in each case and in each district throughout the colony; the dates when evidence had been adduced, and emmerating and particularizing such cases as have been finally disposed of.

It is a fact that documents relating to cases which have been heard before the Commissioners several months back, perhaps seven months, have not as yet been forwarded to the Principal Commissioner's Office; a Chancery suit might be disposed of in the titae, and certainly some parties are sustaining an injury from the delay, which they ought not to suffer considering the vast machinery in activity (I was going to say) but certainly in motion, and supported by the public. It is to be hoped that when the estimates come to be canvassed by your honorable house that honorable members will take into their consideration whether or

be substituted.

It may appear curious that the bulk of the careats are lodged against particular parties; that is, generally. It is the result of the working of the late expired Act, which gave the Commissioners powers incompatible with their experience and judgment, which has entuiled the trouble and expense on the aquatters of having to appeal against their dehas entuled the trouble and expense on the squatters of having to appeal against their decisions. If the matter was sifted thoroughly, perhaps it might appear that there are hermitages in the bush, as well as at Darlinghurst.

Gentlemen,

Your very obedient servant,

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald, GENTLEMAN,—As I hope most ardenly that an enquiry will be speedily instituted respecting my management of this Asylum for the last two years and a half, I shall not here enter into any discussion with you. I only wish briefly to do myself justice.

You say, in your notice of my letter to the Rev. G. E. Turner, that "the fact which is stated by him (Mr. Turner) is admitted to be such by Dr. Campbell and that the plain naked fact is, that a man did die unattended, and that another did perish on the cold stones."

In this short sentence you have made twe assertions which are not true. I ma den ouch admission. I deny that any man died in this Institution unattended since it came under my management; and I deny that any man, during the same period, ever perished on the cold stones! Every attendance has been given to the patients, whether well, sick or dying, that humanity could dictate, and my means afford.

Lunatic Asylum, June 21.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald, Gentlemen,—After reading the very interesting report in your paper of the 19th, of the proceedings of the Australian Society, I felt desirous to ask a question, to which you or some of your correspondents may perhaps kindly furnish an answer.

The Aloc, which grows readily in this country, supplies a fibre which is used in some parts of the world as a substitute for hemp and, I believe, is sometimes woven into a kind of linen.

Now I beg leave to enquire, "Is there any great difficulty attending the preparation of this fibre, or is the fibre itself of such inferior quality, or in fact is there any reason whatever le diffi. To the Editors of the S

I have the honour to be, yours, &c. AN ENQUIRER.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.
Gentlemen, — I have only this moment perused your second leading article of to-day, and am astounded that any act of mine, or any circumstance connected with myself, should have had the disgusting effect of procuring for me the insulting condolence of the Herald.

The "difficulties" alluded to in my address "to the electors of Sydney," are purely technical—such as, in the present existing state of the colony, would, perhaps, be applicable to three-fourths of the elected members of our Council,—but which, in my own case, threatened to involve litigation. I need say no more to my friends or even to my political opponents to do away entirely with what might otherwise be the effect of the allusions or imputations which you have thought proper so gratuitously to heap upon me in your columns of this morning.

Requesting that you will do me the justice

GENTLEMEN, — A paragraph in your issue of this day, mentions that a certain investigation at the Police Office, on Thursday, was not conduded in consequence, as was alleged, of my

If, therefore, such an assertion were really

Wise any plan so effectual to rander old age happy, independent, and free from all sites and anxieties. as that of the deferred annities, or annutities for old age. The overscrowded state of the Benevolent Asylum, and the many demands for private charity calls leady for some system to arrest the growing evils of poverty.

However high the rate of wages, and cheap the necessaries of life may be, there cannot fail to be great numbers of paupers, unless the labouring classes will set apart a portion of their carnings for their support in old age.

The payment of is. a week by the labouring man, their wives, and the female servants in this colony, would be scarcely felt by them, and the nitiling sum if commenced at the age of 30 would entitle them when they became 50 to a annuity of about £11 ayear; at 50 to about £20 a year, during pir remainder of their lives. How many aged men and women that are now in this colony draging out a miserable existence, suffering pirtation, neglect, reproach, and upbraidings, and dependent for a bare subsistence on public and private charity, who have wasted or spent in extravagance considerably more than this amount. Instead of thinking on the future with joy and hope, for he knows that one certain day his annuity will commence, and he may thenceforth cease to labour, as he will be independent during the remainder of his life. Surely employers could not render a more important service to their servants than by urging upon them the advice of the wisest man "to provide like the ant in the summer for the winter of life."

Many persons whilst young urge as a reason far not subscribing for a Deferred Annuity man after he winter of life."

in saving persons who were once wealthy from a miserable old age.

So much importance do the Directors attach to the immense advantage to be derived from securing a provision for the aged out of their savings when young, that they have determined to apply for an Act of Council to protect Deferred Annuities, under certain conditions, the same as Government Pensions are protected against judgment debts, sequestration in insolvency, &c.

In order to relieve members from the effects of unforeseen emergency, the Society will lend money on the security of Deferred Annuities and Life Assurance policies, at a moderate rate of interest.

The tables of rates, forms of proposals, and all information may be obtained at the Offices of the Society from ten to four daily.

AT SMITH'S COLONIAL SHIRT MARUFACTORY, 17, PARK-STREEF.

TO Gentlemen who prefer having their Shirts made to measure or order, 1. T. Smith respectfully solicits them to give their directions during the winter months, as the inflax of orders in the apring and summer renders it almost impossible to pay that strict and individual attention to the demands of all his numeous patrons that he really wishes to do: and from the comparatively few coop shirt hands to be met with, great delay is often caused, which is unavoidable, for the two reasons assigned J. T. S. angests that his friends should now give their orders for what they are likely to require in the spring. A registry is kept of all measures and particulars; therefore, for those gentlemen who have been previously supplied at his manufactory and readed in the country, it will be only necessary to transmit their wishes through the post-office, and every posible care and stiestion shall be paid to them.

The addition to the advantages which this property enj-ys from its very extensive frontage to the William River, it lies contiguous to the well known "Underbank Estate," and commands the whole of the back
run. of Belar, Parundinan, Tenandra, and Wolla Wolla, situate on the Castlereagh River, in the district of Bligh: the last three being divided from Belar by the Warrambungle Ranges,—the whole covering an estimated area of 155,009 acree, and capable of maintaining, at a small additional pathy, at least 158,000 acres, and cayable of maintaining, at a small additional outley, at least 25,000 to 30 000 SHEEP.

The Belar run is well known for its neverfalling supply of water, which, in the driest seasons has scarcely diminished in quantity. It is a first-rate breeding station, and with the Myall Plains runs is of immense value for the fattening of sheep and cattle. The Tenandra run alone has fattened as many as 5000 sheep in one year, and the pasture of the others is equally rich. WATER MILL AND COTTAGE,

This land is situated on the Parish Road leading from Sydney to Botany, beyond the Waterloo Estate, and bounded by Mesers.

Hollinshed, Hayes, Want, and Harfield, and appears on the Government plans as Lot 11.

The rapidly increasing value of all the garden land in the neighbourhood of Sydney ought to be a sufficient inducement to purchase any of the few lots that remain like this unproductive, as the demand for market gardens of about ten acres each, is daily becoming greater. organ to be a sunceent inducement to purchase any of the few lots that remain like this unproductive, as the demand for market gardens of about ten series each, is daily becoming greater.

This plot would make a beautiful site for a necessary residence, where a person might live at little expense beyond his grocer's bill.

Such a property as the one above described requires no comment. It is impossible to speak too highly of it, and it is certain that with the brilliant prospect which all our celostration interests hold out, the one that is all paramount—the source of all our weelth—will not be lost sight of on the day of sale by those who have money to invest or more to make.

LOTS 6. 7. 8.

LOT 6. All that piece or parcel of land situate on the east side of Chunch-strangt, containing by admeasurement 80 rods, &c.

This allotment is immediately on the Parramatta side of the bridge, crossing the River to the Windsor Road, and has a very large frontage to the Parramatta River, besides its extensive frontage to Church-street.

Lot 7 adjoins the above, and extends along the Parramatta River up to lot 8.

Lot 8 is immediately beyond Lot 7, and has also large frontage to the River.

All these lots must be highly valuable, looking to the immediate prospect which we now have of uniting Parramatta with Sydney by Railroad. They occupy a capital p sition.
